Council Gives O. K. to Playground Bill Monday

Act on Other Matters in Regular Monthly Meeting

In its regular monthly meeting last Monday night, Council passed the ordinance authorizing the issuance of $30,000 worth of bonds to purchase and improve the plot of ground which will become the Outdoor Recreation Center.

This ordinance was passed pursuant to the special election held in Narberth on February 6th, at which time an overwhelming majority was registered by the voters in favor of the project. In the regular election last fall the same bill was passed, but through an error in the wording of the ballot, the election was declared void and the new vote ordered.

Council will now advertise the bonds for 3 weeks, after which time they will be issued, the ground purchased and work begun on the improvements. The bonds will mature in 30 years, and will bear interest coupons dated August 1st and February 1st. The interest rate will be 4½%. Immediately upon the final reading of the bill, it was signed by President of Council W. R. D. Hall, and a few minutes later by Burgess Carl B. Metzger.

Another important matter before Council was that of the ordinance covering the new plan for milk protection. A bill similar to that in the townships of Lower Merion and Haverford, with which the Borough will co-operate in the new plan for milk inspection, was introduced and passed first reading. Council has already approved the recommendation of the Narberth Board of Health that Narberth co-operate in this, and the ordinance is to give the necessary official authority for the new inspection.

Council agreed to a plan submitted by the Bala & Merion Electric Co., in which the latter wish a change made in the present location of street signs. The company believes that the signs when fastened to the poles, are a source of danger to the workmen who must climb past them. The new plan is to place these signs on artistically designed metal brackets, extending out from the poles. The company has agreed to bear the expense of changing the present signs, the Borough to pay for any additional brackets which may be erected later. The new arrangement should be both safer and more attractive.

Recently the Home and School Association suggested to the Narberth School Board that one fire plug was scarcely adequate protection for the two buildings comprising the plant. The Board acted at once on the suggestion, and the Secretary communicated with Council, petitioning that a new plug be erected near the school Council, in Monday's meeting agreed to the addition, and a new plug will be installed on Sabine Avenue within a short time. This new plug will not be on the same water main as the other, the present plug being connected with the Essex Avenue system, while the new one will draw from Narberth avenue. The additional protection will therefore be of considerable importance.

WE BOW

In last Friday's Public Ledger, the Editorial page carried an Editorial reprinted from "Our Town," on Mr. Pattison's nomination.

On this page the Ledger occasionally runs editorials from the "Boston Transcript," "London Times," and other newspapers of that type. It is exceedingly pleasing to "Our Town" to be placed thus among the "400."

We bow!

Choral Society Ends It's Season at Polo Grounds

Prominent Artists Assist in Well-rounded Program

Assisted by Alice Gentle, an operatic soprano, and Ciro De Ritis, Italian baritone, the Narberth Choral Society closed the present season with a concert last Saturday evening on the Bryn Mawr Polo Grounds. The program which it gave was, in some ways, the most pretentious one so far attempted, and judging by the enthusiasm with which each number was received by the two thousand or more persons who heard it, there seems to be little doubt but that the Choral again scored a triumph and established itself more firmly in its place as one of the best local choruses in or around Philadelphia.

Unfortunately, it was found impossible to move the judges' stand which separated the two sections upon which the chorus sat. This unavoidably placed the tenors and sopranos too far from the contraltos and basses, throwing an extra burden upon Professor Niece and making it difficult for him to combine the voices of the entire chorus. He did it, however, and the results were exceedingly good, especially in numbers which the chorus had done before and with which it was most familiar. Spots in which any one choir was not quite with the ensemble was entirely due to this unfortunate arrangement of the chorus seats.

The high light of the concert was undoubtedly the work of Alice Gentle who sang both in solo and with the chorus. Seldom, except in opera or in recitals of the highest order, is an audience privileged to hear such flawless work, especially at an open air concert. While everything that she did was marvellously perfect, her interpretation of Ware's "Stars," a difficult and highly technical piece, was exquisite, and was rightfully received by the audience with marked enthusiasm. Miss Gentle is an artist of the

A MUSICAL TRIUMPH

The finest organ in America will fill the new Ardmore Theatre with musical splendor, beginning Monday, June 19.

The Organ was designed especially to meet the approval of the most celebrated musical critics in the country; and is equipped with eighty-five speaking stops, which represent practically every instrument employed in a sixty-five piece symphony orchestra.

The United States Pipe Organ Company of Philadelphia, builders of this wonderful orchestral Organ, have used the very finest of materials, in making this $30,000 musical gem, the most complete and latest unified type of Organ in the world.

It contains 15,000 pipes, ranging in size from 32 feet down to the size of an ordinary lead pencil; and 3,000 feet of wire being used to make the electrical contacts from the three manual console to the three organ chambers, which are distributed in different parts of the house; with tones coming from all three at the same time, blended into a perfect whole.

This Organ is not only the largest ever installed in any theatre in America, but the sweetest toned and most complete as well. The Main Line Amusement Company have been very fortunate in securing the exclusive services of Mr. D. H. McPoyle, as organist, who ranks among the very best musicians in the East.

Mr. McPoyle has had wide experience in this line of work, and was finally selected, after a long and careful search for a musician who would be in keeping with the instrument itself.

Monday, June 19th, we have the honor to present Professor William Hansen as guest organist.

Mr. Hansen will open the program with a special organ recital.

For the Summer

The demand on our space by Narberth activities during the summer months is usually but a small percentage of the winter requirements. In past years, this drop in local doings has resulted in the skipping of one or more issues of "Our Town."

This year the management of the paper has decided to skip no issues during the summer. Instead, until the additional space is required, we will reduce our size to five columns. The larger sheet will be resumed in the early fall, or sooner if space is needed.

By this means we will be enabled to economize our resources, and divert the revenue into giving Narberth's activities a still better publication during the winter.

Eighteen Students Receive Diplomas from High School at Commencement

Graduates Hold Successful Reunion on Monday. Other Events Feature Pleasant Commencement Week

THE BACCALAUREATE SERMON

On Sunday evening, June 11th, the annual Baccalaureate service was held in All Saints' Protestant Episcopal Church.

Despite the bad weather, the Church was well filled. The service was a union one, participated in by the other Narberth Churches.

The Baccalaureate was delivered by Rev. Gibson Bell, rector of the Church. His talk, which was of an informal nature, and right to the point, dealt with modern lax tendencies of the younger generation. His text, he said, had he had one, would have been, "A good name is more to be chosen than great riches." The members of All Saints choir rendered several anthems during the service.

THE ALUMNI BANQUET

The most successful gathering of the Alumni Association in its history was held on Monday night, when 77 graduates and their friends assembled at the school for the Annual Social Meeting.

The meeting this year took the form of a banquet, ably and carefully prepared under the jurisdiction of Miss Jane Laird, chairman of the Entertainment Committee. In addition to over fifty graduates of our local High School, the entire School Board, with wives and husbands, as the case might be, Principal and Mrs. George H. Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher W. Stites were present. There were also several Associate members, and the husbands or wives of a number of graduates.

The repast was voted most excellent by all who attended. At the close of the meal, two piano solos were rendered by Miss Madeline McCoy, which were received with much applause. Charles H. McCarter, Jr., President of the Alumni Association then introduced—if that be necessary—the Hon. Fletcher W. Stites, who in a few well-chosen words praised the work of the Association, and the feeling of pride which the School Board might well have in the graduates it has sent forth from the Narberth High School. Other brief addresses were made by Mr. McCarter, President of the School Board, and Mr. Wilson.

The members were very enthusiastic about the complete success of this reunion. Members of all but two of the classes graduated from the High School were present; from 1909 to date, 16 of the 18 graduates of this year's class were present, and were welcomed into membership in the Association. It is planned to make the banquet an annual affair in the future.

COMMENCEMENT

The greatest number of students ever graduated from the Narberth High School received their diplomas at the annual Commencement exercises Wednesday evening.

Eighteen graduates received the coveted sheepskin and sallied forth to lend their learning to the early solution of the nation's problems. The program was opened by "Buona Notte," rendered by the High School Chorus. Following the Invocation, by Rev. Gibson Bell, another musical number was rendered. Louis Ricklin then delivered the salutatory.

The address of the evening was by Dr. Calvin O. Althouse, of the Central High School, Philadelphia. The talk was both amusing and instructive, and was greatly enjoyed by everyone. The Valedictory was delivered by Sara Lucia Keim.

Diplomas were given by President C. Howard McCarter, of the School Board, to the following:

PRIZES

A number of awards were made at the commencement exercises for high proficiency in scholarship, and in essay competition. The American Legion Medal was awarded to Esther Keim and Richard Gillis. The Medal of the National Society of Colonial Daughters, awarded for the best essay in competition, was awarded to Marion Miller, with honorable mention to Mabel Fritsch, Gladys Weiss and Calvin Fritsch.

The daughters of the American Revolution prize, given to Seniors in competition, for essays, was won by Lucia Keim and Louis Ricklin.

This year a number of certificates for scholarship were awarded by the Board of Education. Certificates of High Merit were given to James Findlay, Frances Hunt, Mabel Fritsch, Thomas Manning, Frederick Egmore, John Timm, John Havlick, and Mary Blodgett. Certificates of Merit were awarded to Lucia Keim, Edward Gillfillan, Dorothy Sheneman, Clinton Shaw, Helen Caldwell, Charles Clegg, Edwin Wolf, Robert Dethard, Elizabeth Wallis, Laura Henderson, Cynthia Metzger and Richard Timm.

To the Editor of "Our Town":

The American Legion Auxiliary unit of Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356 at their regular monthly meeting held Tuesday evening, June 6th, 1922, a resolution was passed instructing that the following communication be transmitted to you.

The unit appreciates the cooperation that "Our Town" gave by publishing a resolution adopted by the American Legion Auxiliary in its issue of May 13th to awaken a greater interest in the display and proper display of our National Flag. It regrets very much that in the issue following, the joke column, the title of said column being "The Tower of Babbie," the editor's non de plume being "Column Righter," this resolution was used as a subject for satirical comment.

We believe our endeavor to awaken a greater interest in the observance of the accepted rules of governing the use of the Flag, will have the hearty support of every loyal citizen of Narberth, as it has in other communities throughout the United States, and Column Righter might remember that had he ever served in the armed forces of his country, he would have had the flag rules so indelibly impressed upon his conscience, that such a resolution would "peeve" him.

LEGIIONNAIRES FBOLIC

The Garden Party given last Friday evening on the Eatenmann estate, Sabine Avenue, by the American Legion Auxiliary unit of Harold D. Speakman, Post No. 356, was attended by over one hundred Legionnaires, their families and friends.

Prominent among the entertainment features of the evening was group singing of songs that were popular in the Expeditionary Forces, the singing being led by Vice Commander Mr. Henry G. Sparks. The broad verandas and terraces surrounding the homestead afforded ideal opportunity for outdoor dancing, which was embraced by many couples.

Splendid music was furnished throughout the evening by the American Legion Orchestra recently organized by Mr. Edwin H. Wipf. Illumination and a gala atmosphere was lent to the beautiful natural surroundings by many Japanese lanterns strategically and artistically located.

The refreshments consisted of deviled chicken sandwiches, pickles and coffee, ice cream and lady fingers, which were daintily served by the younger members of the Auxiliary, and for the men cigars and cigarettes were provided. This party was the crowning event concluding a highly successful season of auxiliary activities.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Righter

The Column has made an exhaustive search of the folders dispensed by the office of esteemed Pennsylvania Casey in a determined effort to locate, come upon or isolate a Main Line timetable including among its many phased unintelligibilities some mere word, some faint note, some well-meaning but misdirecting symbol or letter, something, just something directing the notice of travellers to the inimitable and always progressive meal service at Bickford Hall, the which is advertised each week with such painstaking care in "Our Town."

But all in vain. This is a sad state of affairs. An important Narberth institution is being deliberately overlooked. We think the attention of the authorities at Broad Street Station should at least be brought toward the subject. As the present day dining car efforts are far from what is expected of them. And having made this suggestion in good faith, we pass it on free of all incumbrances to Hon. Shand for his personal manipulation with the feeling that he is the one man above all others who is possessed of the capabilities for engineering properly.

Which reminds us that we have always been intensely interested in Cover materials. Our personal experience with covers has unfortunately been limited to Marseilles, candle-wick and dimity spreads, patch-work and knitted quilts, comfortable cotton and down, blankets both single and double the usual run of "Wamsutta" and "Fruit of the Loom" sheets and pillow cases, not to mention linen and near-linen table cloths and napkins and those most abominated doily sets of oil-cloth and other equally as elusive materials, each, all and every of which are part and parcel of the machinery of most any well regulated household.

Many years ago when we attended Grammar School we mind declaiming once a rare specimen of poetry, by name "The Lay of the Last Minaret." The mere thought of it gives us an inspiration. Sometime in the hazy vista of the future when we have nothing to do and can't sleep, we shall sit us down at our library table and after lighting our pipe and putting out our cat and placing our cut glass cuspidor, exactly 3 feet seven and one-half inch from the right arm of our chair, we shall proceed to do a poem ourselves, label it "The Lay of the Last Cover" and dedicate it to none other than our esteemed and worthy citizeness, Mrs. J. Bookford Bricks.

The mention of the cuspidor is timely with dry weather in the offing. We have one flower bed in our garden that is moist even in most parched times. It is clustered with spitoonias and has an admirable border of saliva plants.

And ye Gods, automatically up pops the Spring Flower Show. It was a great success, wasn't it? Oh mercy yes. Quite so. Quite so, in every sense of the word. That is from the viewpoint of one who never goes to bed any decent hour o' nights—who never gets up any decent hour o' mornings—who seldom keeps appointments—who rarely ever finishes what is commenced—who never has been heard to manage properly anything that is agreed to be managed—who usually and generally is satisfied to let things slide through, slip through or glide through in-respective of whether the desired result is accomplished or not by the said sliding, slipping or gliding.

The Column was literally madder than a blind man with his tin cup full of buttons at the sight of the many proud and happy children who marched to the V. M. C. A. building with their carefully plucked and arranged floral exhibits, only to be told at the door that the game had been called on account of rain. We shall not forget for many a day the sad and disappointed look on their young faces. Called on account of rain. Rain. Gosh-hang it, what had a little rain to do with it? Afraid folks would melt away? We know quite a lot of the young and old livers in this brilliant Borough and not one of the lot would do as a substitute to sweeten coffee. Called on account of rain! Called on account of laziness and lack of prior preparation would have been more to the point, think we.

So the yewnited supplications of the Narberth Churches are hereby solicited for the Civic Association and the Main Line League. Lettuce spray.

To Markle's, to Markle's
To buy a fat swig.
'Tis a wonderful diet.
Consistently try it
And sure as gun's iron
You'll be fat as a pig.

BUCKS COUNTY TEAM LOSES TO NARBERTH

Playing in the Middle States League, the Narberth Tennis team tucked away another big victory Saturday, June 10, by defeating the Bucks County team 8 to 1. With general humidity serving great gobs of hot moisture, the boys of both teams were forced to forego some of their speed, although this did not prevent them from perspiring to a point where they looked as though they had just come out of the ocean.

Despite the heat and the humidity, however, there was some remarkably fine tennis. Harold Lane, playing number one position on the Narberth team, gave a masterful exhibition. Lane's method of play is strikingly similar to Tilden's. He puts into his game just enough ability to win. When the crucial time arrives, he increases his speed and accuracy, and invariably wins out. On Saturday, playing against Atkins, he lost the first set 6-4. His forehead drive seemed to lack speed, while his service was easily returnable. In the second and third sets, however, there was a marked change. Atkins was chased back and forth across the base line in a desperate effort to return the deep fast drives that shot out of the far corners of the court like bullets. There was nothing to the match after the first set, except Lane's wonderful work, although Atkins fought back with gameness.

Narberth plays at Elberon Saturday, June 17, and at home on June 24, with the strong Plimont team as its guest.

The Women's Auxiliary, under the able direction of Mrs. H. C. Fenno, served supper for both teams and their guests after the matches. The assisting committee comprised Mrs. Jas. P. Donnelly, Mrs. H. Dinkler, Mrs. Roy Williams and Mrs. Carl Grace.

On Friday evening a unique party was given at the club rooms of the Narberth Tennis Association, Haverford and Montgomery Aves., by Mrs. James F. Donnelly. The guests were all dressed as kids, and although they played bridge, most of the evening was devoted to kid games and dancing. A box luncheon of sandwiches, cakes and candies, together with ice cream cones, was served, while each guest was provided with horns and lolly-pops.

The guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Nauce.
Mr. and Mrs. Roger Warner.
Mr. and Mrs. Clarke D. Moody.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. McAdoo.
Mr. and Mrs. Alva Jones.
Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rogers.
Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. Harris.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm Boryer.

REV. H. M. CHALFANT HONORED

Rev. Harry M. Chalfant, of 128 Chestnut Avenue, Narberth, was honored on Wednesday of last week by receiving the honorary degree of "Doctor of Divinity," (D. D.) from Washington and Jefferson College, his Alma Mater.

The degree was conferred at the annual commencement exercises. Dr. Chalfant, a native of Washington County, was graduated from the class of 1892, which held its thirtieth reunion last week. He received his master's degree in 1895, entered the Methodist Episcopal ministry, and since 1909 has been editor of the "American Issue," the official organ of the Anti-Saloon League of Pennsylvania.

highest order who would add to any program no matter where given.

Ciro De Ritis, the other soloist, was undoubtedly out of voice on Saturday evening, although it was clear that he is capable of greater things. He has a presentation that indicates careful training, and unquestionably is an artist with great future possibilities.

It would be difficult to give too much praise to Erl Beatty, the accompanist upon whom fell the exacting work of supporting both Miss Gentle and Mr. De Ritis. In everything that he played, he showed a true musicianship too seldom found in the vast army of accompanists who may be heard in Philadelphia. To Mr. Beatty must go much of the credit for the success of the concert.

The selection of the Women's Symphony Orchestra as the accompanying instrument for the chorus was perhaps unfortunate in that the majority of those in the audience failed to appreciate the handicap under which it was working. It is almost impossible to find women who can play certain instruments in a symphony orchestra; the brasses and wood winds in particular. Furthermore, most members of the Women's Symphony Orchestra are without the necessary experience that a finished orchestra must have. That such an organization exists, however, is indeed creditable and its short comings should be subordinated to the prospects which this organization has of becoming a real factor in the music of the city. Proceeds from the concert, which was given under the auspices of the Main Line Auxiliaries of the Seamen's Church Institute went to a building fund for that Institution.

"The Standard by which all other Makes are measured"

PORTLAND CEMENT

PROBABLY the first place you ever noticed concrete was in concrete sidewalks. This was only about twenty-five years ago. Today hardly any other kind is built.

Concrete has proved its economy, its suitability, its permanence. Even though most of those first walks were built before concrete construction was properly understood, some of them are still giving good service.

Today your dealer is able to give you the same cement that has stood the test of over twenty-five years' use on all types of work. For more than a quarter century Atlas Portland Cement has been "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."
